Accommodation

In keeping with the nature of our Georgian Grade II building all rooms have their own unique character and style. Residents can add their own personal touches by bringing in their own furnishings, pictures and possessions making their room "home from home"

Services

At Swan Hill, we pride ourselves on offering a truly person-centred service, tailored to each resident staying with us all designed to maintain and increase independence levels. That is why we offer physiotherapy, hairdressers and accessibilities to an array of community health teams, such as nurses, occupation therapists and people who specialise in the more personal concerns.

Dining

At Swan Hill House we have a wide and varied menu. All meals are home cooked by our in house Chef and her team. Alternatives are always available and special diets are catered for. We only use quality ingredients and we are always happy to adapt our meals to suit everyone's personal tastes.

Relaxing

Remaining as active as possible, maintaining independence and trying new activities are a very important part of all our lives. In addition to assisting residents to maintain and access their existing hobbies we run a full and varied programme of in-house activities to encourage new interests. Our activity programme includes tai chi, French and Spanish lessons, arts and crafts, music therapy, and of course, Bingo! Residents can pick and choose their favourites and join in as much as they wish to or simply choose to spend their leisure time pursuing their own interests and hobbies.

Our beautiful gardens are an integral part of Swan Hill House offering residents the opportunity to exercise their green fingers or perhaps just to read at their leisure.

A five minute amble will also find you in the town, so whether you wanted to pop into the Theatre Severn to watch a local production, enjoy a picnic in the quarry with friends and family, or have a walk around some of our local history spots such as the Old Market Hall, The Castle, or see Ebenezer Scrooges grave stone, then our wonderful town centre location has all that available!
